

MELODI Education and Training Forum 2013

Theme 2: Strategies for promoting and funding E&T

(Survival in a changing environment)

Vere Smyth, Andrea Ottolenghi, Klaus Trott
University of Pavia, Italy

What is changing?

- Some states are getting rid of nuclear power because it is dangerous
- Some states are promoting nuclear power because it is “green”
- Euratom FP7 is finished
- Horizon 2020 in on the horizon
- DoReMi has only 2 more years
- Euratom RP will be funded through OPERRA

What should MELODI's strategy be for maintaining support for E&T?

- Radiation protection is a public good issue
- E&T for RP should be supported by public funding
- We can only develop a viable strategy if we understand the environment
- This session is mainly Euratom-directed; we would welcome leads to possible other funding avenues such as national bodies, regulatory leverage, etc.

We look forward to your participation and suggestions
